It seems like everybody needs to save cash these days. There are very few people who do not need to live to a strict budget and tighten their purse strings to make ends meet, but fortunately there are plenty of ways to do just that.

One of the major expenses which many people have (apart from running their homes) is running their motors. What with rising fuel prices and insurance costs it can account for a lot of your weekly budget just keeping a car on the road. One way to save a little money in this department is by using discount tyres. Gold Coast residents do have a choice of suppliers of discount tyres but be warned – they are not all the same.

Tyres are one of the most important safety features on a car. It does not matter how good your brakes are . . . well actually it does, but that is another story. The point is that even with the best brakes in the world your car will not be able to stop efficiently and safely if you do not have good tyres. Tyres are the only thing which keeps your car on the black stuff and can affect the safety and handling more than any other component.

Here are a few things which you need to remember about tyres:

- Check the tread regularly to make sure that your tyres are safe.

- Check that your tyres wear evenly. If the outer or inner part of any tyre is more worn than the rest it could indicate that your wheels need to be balanced or aligned. This will help your tyres to last longer and keep your car on the road.

- Check your tyre pressures regularly. If you keep your tyres at the optimum pressure it will not only help with the handling and safety of your car, it will also help to increase their longevity and even maximise your fuel economy. If your cars do not have enough pressure in them it can cause your car to use more fuel than it needs to.

Check for cracks and blobs on the tyre wall. This could indicate a weak spot in the tyre and cause a blow out while you are driving down the road.
